PRECISION OFFICE COMPONENTS

Even in the most modern offices, paper based documentation remains perennially important, a fact illustrated by the success enjoyed by United Springs, manufacturing parts for copiers, mail processors and plotters in recent decades.

Additionally, we are designing an ever-increasing number of wire forms, compression and leaf springs for office chairs, drawer-guidance systems and office luminaires, making the office-supply market an important sector for the company. A partnership with United Springs is maintained through every step in the product lifecycle, from first-conceptual design and prototype manufacture, through to final mass-production.
