Artistic & Custom Blacksmithing

Handcrafted metalwork for architecture, restoration & design projects

Kovo-Praha | Where craftsmanship meets tradition

WHO WE ARE

At Kovo-Praha, we combine modern custom metal fabrication with the timeless art of blacksmithing.

Led by Miroslav Vytiska, a master blacksmith with decades of experience, we craft unique metal pieces that connect history, craftsmanship, and precision.

From classic restorations to contemporary design, every project is approached with respect for material, technique, and story.

EXAMPLES & REFERENCES

A blacksmith's anvil is the central focus, with a piece of glowing red-hot metal being worked on by tongs. The background is dark and filled with various metal tools and parts, creating a sense of a busy workshop.

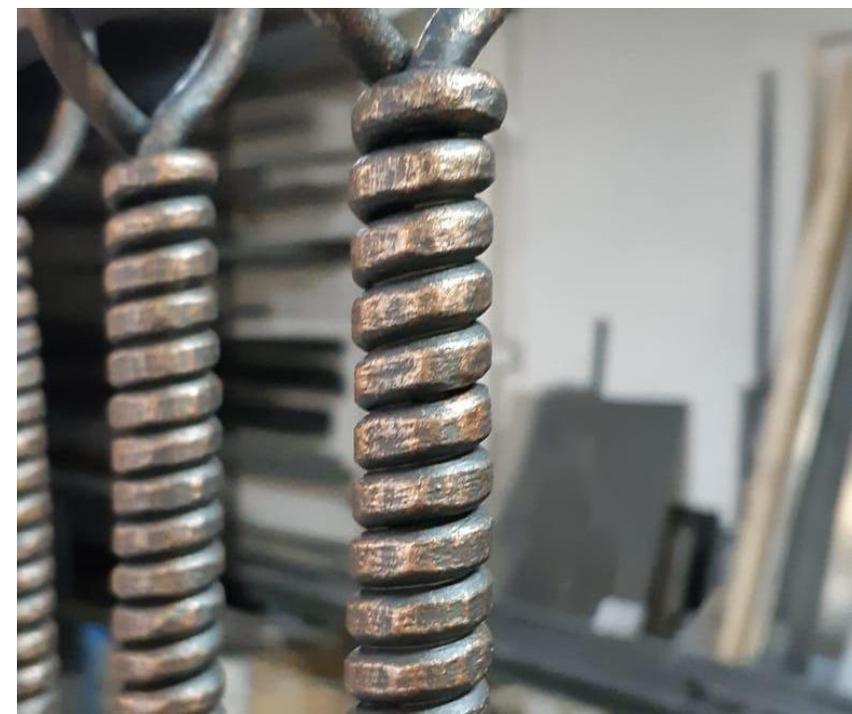

Selected Works

From ornate gates and historic railings to custom-forged handles and decorative interior details - every piece is made by hand, shaped in fire, and finished with care.

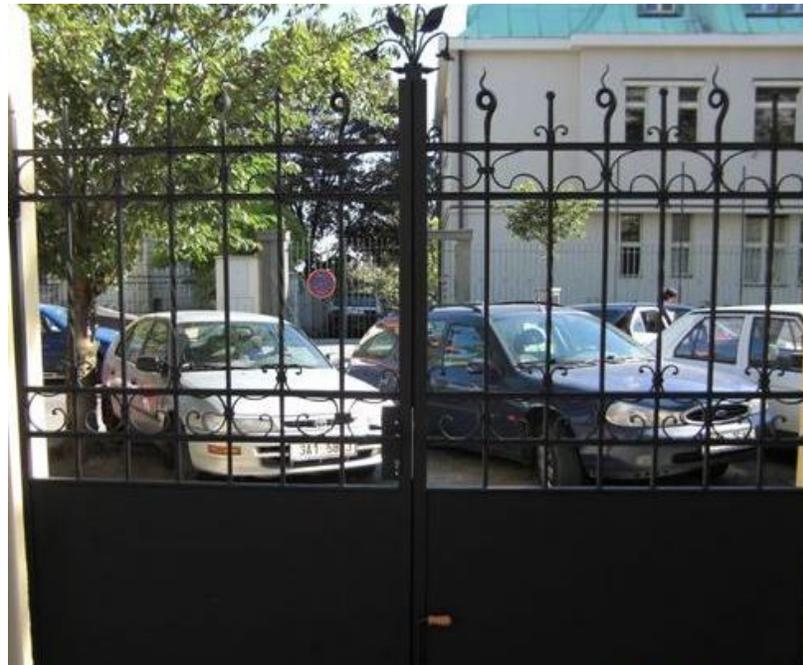

Our portfolio includes restoration work on listed buildings, bespoke artistic commissions, and modern architectural elements inspired by traditional craftsmanship.

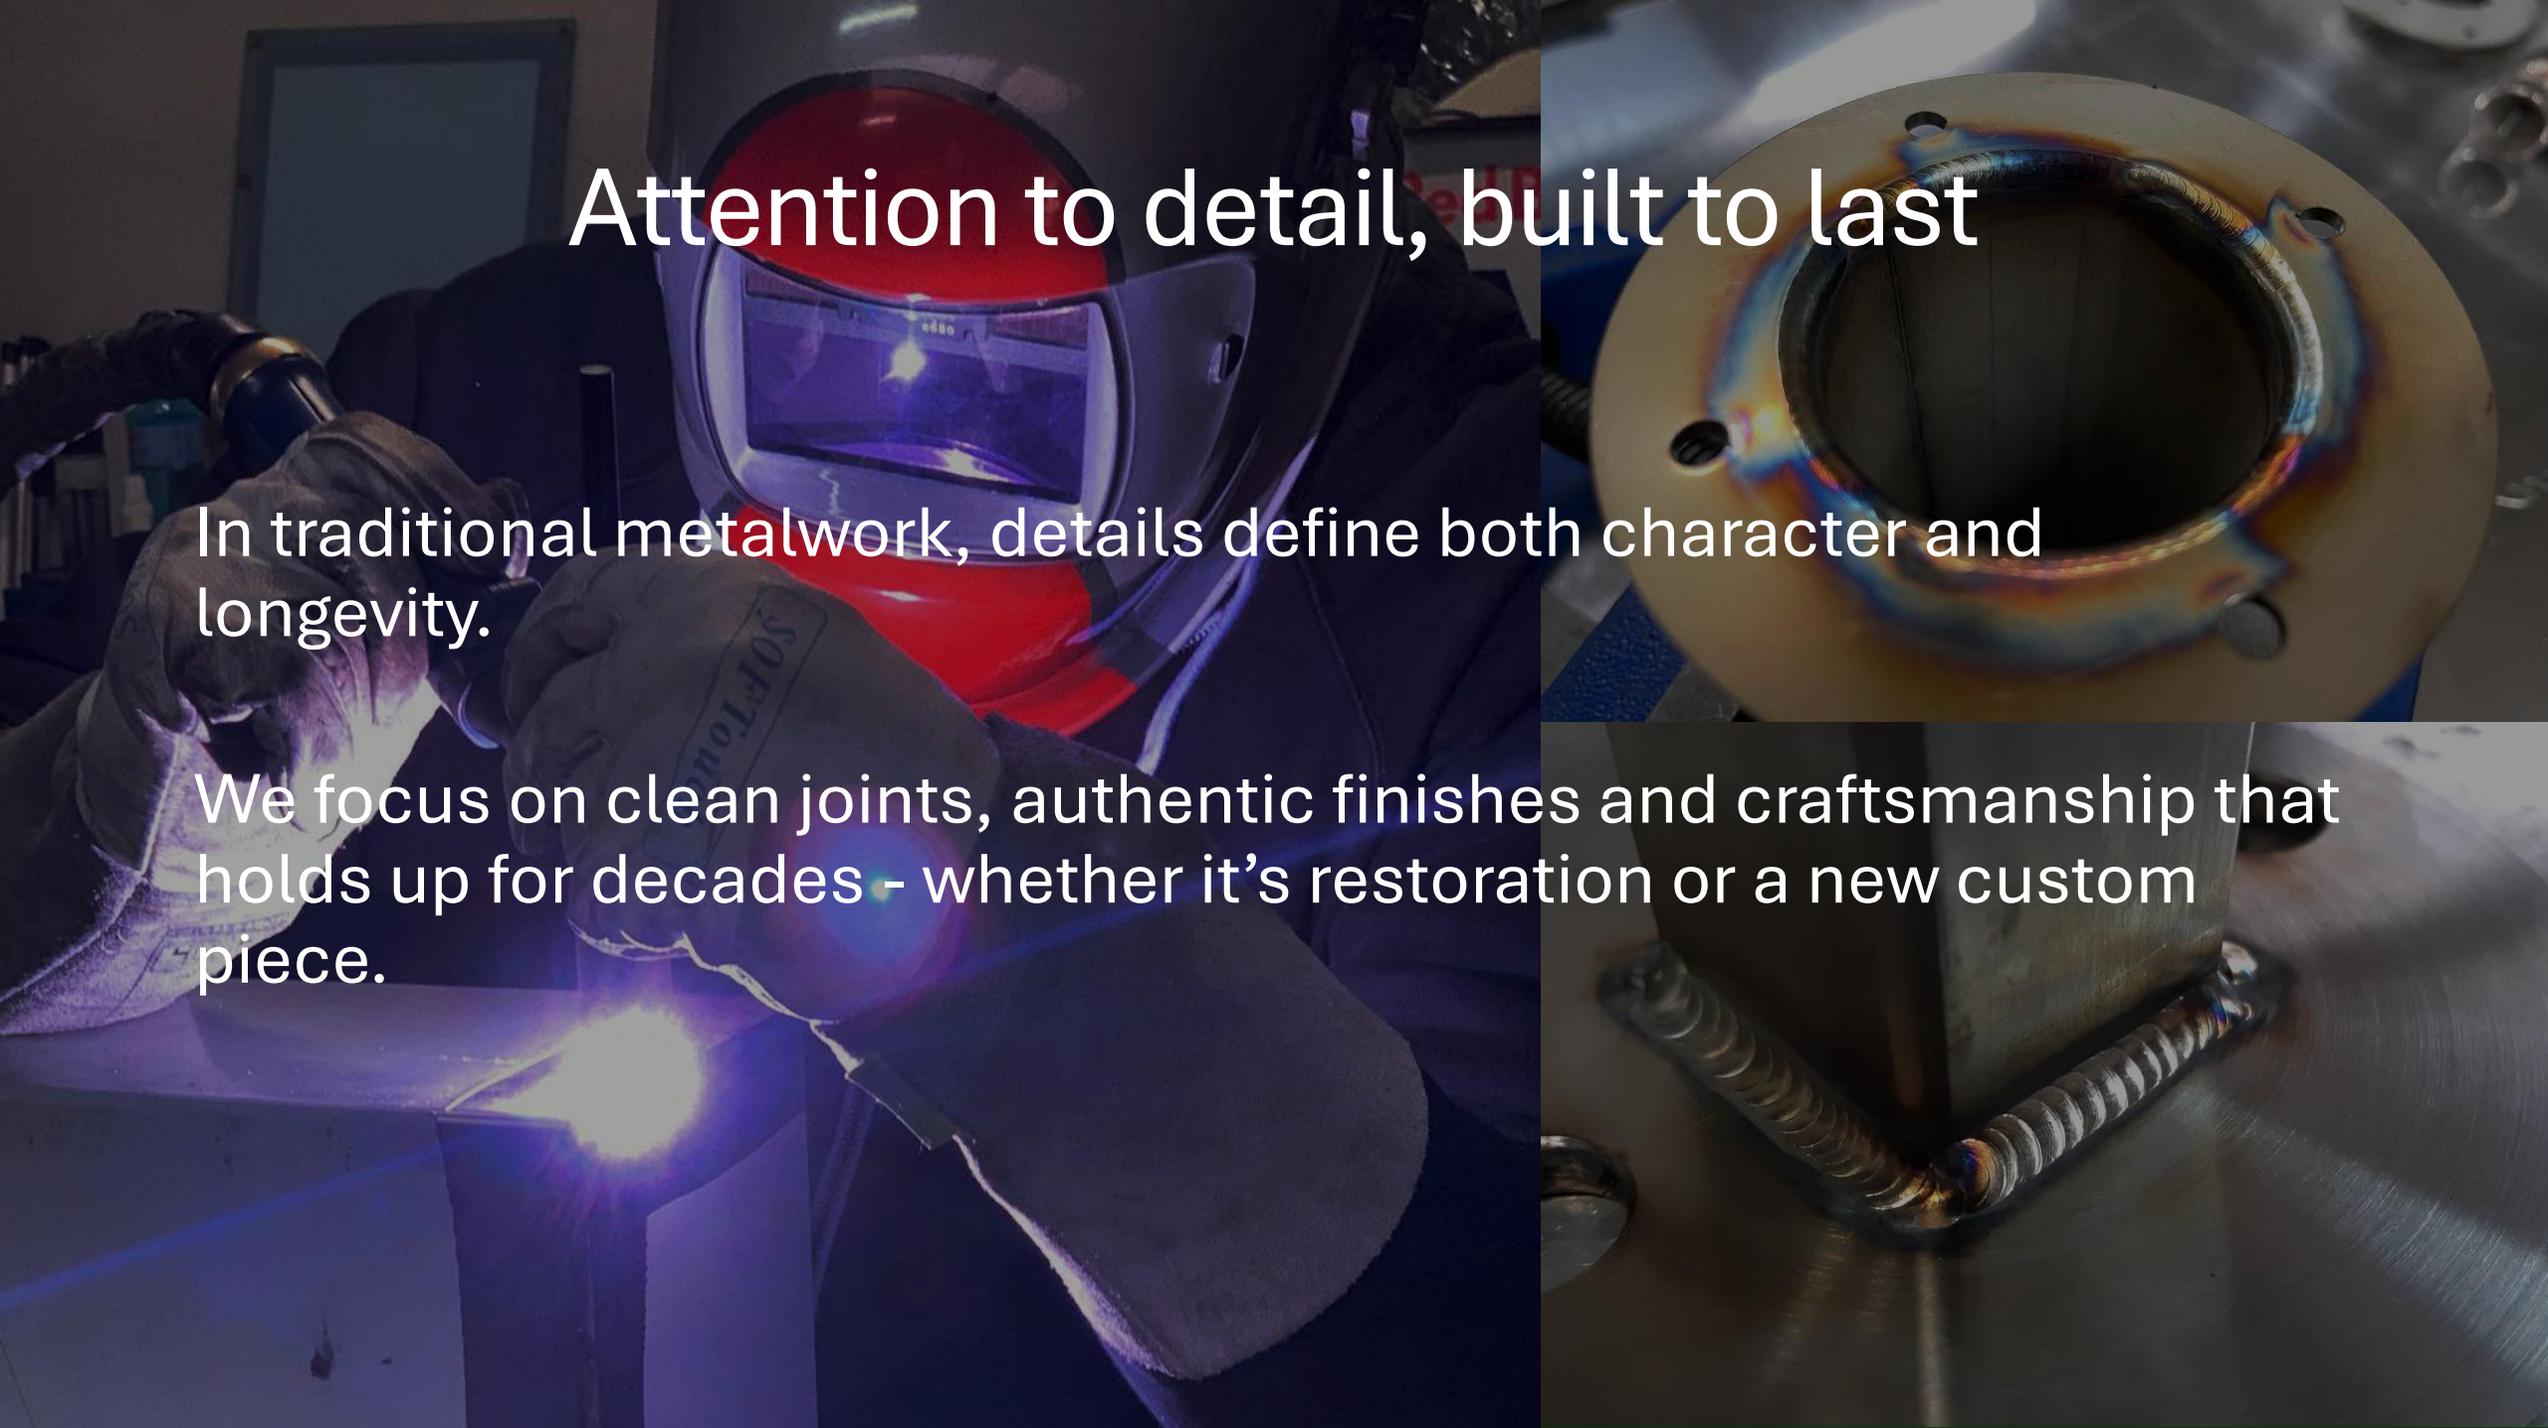

Attention to detail, built to last

In traditional metalwork, details define both character and longevity.

We focus on clean joints, authentic finishes and craftsmanship that holds up for decades - whether it's restoration or a new custom piece.

A reliable metalwork partner for forged and custom blacksmithing projects

We work with architects, designers and clients who value craftsmanship, material honesty and long-term durability.

Our role is to translate ideas and historical or design intent into hand-forged metalwork that fits the project - technically, visually and contextually.

If you see a potential fit, let's discuss your project.
